

D.A.R. FACING HOT ELECTION CAMPAIGN

"Administration" Forces Lined Up Against "Opposition."

MRS. McLEAN MAY NAME SUCCESSOR

President Throws Support to Mrs. M. T. Scott, of Illinois, to Oppose Fairbanks Following.

When Mrs. Donald McLean calls the next Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution together at Continental Hall April 17, it will mark the opening of the first real strife in the society since Mrs. McLean became its president four years ago. A new president general will be elected. Of course, other offices will change hands, but that is of little moment when the chief post in the organization is to be filled. Mrs. McLean is not eligible for re-election, and a big fight over her successor is expected.

Names Successor.
That Mrs. McLean has signified her intention to throw her support to Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Illinois, has been made known and, consequently, Mrs. Scott is accepted as the administration candidate for the office. Friends of Mrs. Patton, of Pennsylvania, vice president general from that State are hopeful that Mrs. Patton will go into the field. She is one of the most popular women in the society, and before her election as vice president general she held the office of State regent of Pennsylvania for many years. She is a splendid executive, and would stand a good chance if she went into the race. It is firmly believed she will do so, and this adds interest to the contest, for Mrs. Patton is one of Mrs. McLean's friends, and it is causing some gossip as to what Mrs. McLean will do if both Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Patton are lined up.

The chief concern, however, is the prospective candidate of the "opposition." The "opposition" hasn't had much chance since the McLean administration began, and has remained out of sight waiting for the time to come when it could face the light and declare itself. Nobody will say just who the likely candidate of the party will be, but there are conferences going on in mysterious places and many names are being discussed.

Fairbanks Faction.
That the nominee will be chosen from the number of those who were formerly aligned with what was known as the "Fairbanks faction" is the contention of Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, formerly president general—there is little doubt. The Fairbanks and McLean sides are the predominating factors in the society, and the race is going to be between them again this year. It is going to be a hot one, too, for Mrs. McLean is still known as an untiring campaigner, and she is going to wield every bit of her power to keep the chief office within the ranks of her supporters.

But the other side is going to fight, too. They have had several years to rest up and get ready, and all their energy is going to be taken into the convention hall when the curtain rolls up on the congress.

TAFT WILL NOT RENT FAMOUS RAMPARTS

Owner of Massachusetts Property Says She Will Not Lease It.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 28.—President Taft refused to give a home on the north shore of this state, but it will not be the famous "Ramparts," which has been so much talked about as the future summer residence of the President and his family.

Mrs. J. Meagher, a real estate man, of this city, who is the representative of Mrs. Raymond, who owns "Ramparts," stated today that the place could not be leased.

MRS. LEEDS' MANSION WILL BE ENLARGED

NEWPORT, R. I., March 28.—Mrs. Nonnie Stewart Leeds, widow of the late William Eastman Leeds, the "tin plate king," contemplates great changes and improvements to "Rough Point," her Newport mansion, which has come to her through the will of her husband. An architect is looking over the place to devise ways and means by which the house may be enlarged to twice its present size.

WILL SERVE NATION AS A TRUE PATRIOT

Charles D. Norton Gives Up $50,000 Income For $4,500 Salary as Assistant Secretary of Treasury. Lloyd W. Bowers' Case Similar.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Old-style patriotism and desire to take an active part in the affairs of the nation, as he has taken in local civic affairs, were declared today by friends to have been the motives which induced Charles D. Norton to leave Chicago and an annual income of $50,000 for the position of First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury at Washington at a salary of $4,500.

Mr. Norton is working in the interests of Chicago today, being in Atlantic City with other members of the Commercial Club who are interested in the Burnham plan for a city beautiful.

In making the personal financial sacrifice Mr. Norton parallels Lloyd W. Bowers, another Chicagoan, who has been called to Washington by the Administration. Mr. Bowers for sixteen years has been general counsel of the Chicago and Northwestern railway at a salary of $50,000, and next week will leave Chicago to become Solicitor General of the United States at a salary of $7,500.

Mr. Norton is a close personal friend of Franklin MacVeagh, the new Secretary of the Treasury. He was urged

LECTURER HAS A PLAN TO EXPLOIT CAPITAL

Fred Niblo Will Prepare Moving Picture Films of Washington.

ORIENT TO VIEW FIRST OF SLIDES

Invitation Accepted to Lecture Before English-Speaking Colonies of Japan and China.

Fred Niblo, who has been attracting large audiences at the Columbia Theater with his humorous and entertaining travel talks of distant lands, may lend his talents to advertise Washington. He now has under consideration the preparation of an original collection of slides and moving picture films of Washington and the preparation of a humorous discourse descriptive of "The most beautiful city in the world." If this is done it is probable that the Orientals will have the first opportunity to pass judgment upon this portion of his work, as he will this summer visit China and Japan. While such visits will be primarily to obtain material for future travel talks, he has already accepted invitations from several of the English-speaking colonies, in that part of the world, to tell them something of America, and as an indispensable adjunct of such a series of talks he is now devoting his attention to this city.

Mr. Niblo has been spending his Saturdays in this city ever since the beginning of his series, his itinerary requiring him to leave on the train immediately following the Sunday-night lectures for Norfolk, where he appears each Monday evening. He then visits successively, Newport News, Richmond, and Baltimore, returning to this city each Friday morning.

Chase's next week will offer Harrison Armstrong's playlet of the jury room called "Circumstantial Evidence," originally produced at the Lamb's Club of New York.

Other numbers are Persian performers, the Mirza-Golom troupe; the Barrows-Lancaster company, and Sydney Deane and company.

WILL AGAIN HEED FOOTLIGHTS' CALL

Divorced Wife of Dr. John M. Masury Going Back to Stage.

BOSTON, March 28.—Divorced after twelve years of married life from Dr. John M. Masury, the millionaire physician, yachtsman, and globe trotter, Mrs. Wilhelmina Clercy Masury, who was famous for her beauty and her vocal powers, announces that she will return to the footlights.

Her decision is sure to cause a stir in the ranks of society on the North Shore, where she has lived since 1889.

ASK INTERCESSION FOR WHITE SLAVE

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 28.—Counsel for Fanny Rothenberg, the young Australian woman ordered deported as a result of a campaign against the white slave traffic in New Orleans, announced that every Louisiana Representative and Senator will be asked to intercede on behalf of the woman.

Information from Washington says the woman must be deported on the ground that she entered this country as an alien for immoral purposes.

PROGRAM TONIGHT AT THE THEATERS

Around the world and back by bedtime, is the invitation of Fred Niblo, the American humorist traveler, who will give the third of his series of zigzag journeys in distant lands at the Columbia this evening and again Friday afternoon.

This evening the pictorial pilgrimage will be through Russia and Siberia, from the Black sea to the farthest points of the empire. This "Travel Talk" through the land of the Czar is said to be one of Mr. Niblo's most delightful journeys.

The Cossack soldiers in action, the Tatars of the Kazan, life on the Volga scenes at the great Russian Fair, and all phases and forms of Russian life from peasant to nobleman will be illustrated.

Mr. Niblo will also conduct his audience from Poland to Finland, introducing Moscow, the Holy City, and showing within the sacred walls of the Kremlin, by means of moving pictures, some rare religious ceremonies. The snapshot and motion pictures of Russia were taken personally by Mr. Niblo. On Sunday evening, April 4, Mr. Niblo will talk on and journey through Italy.

A program of high excellence is promised for the concert at the Gayety tonight, the moving pictures having been selected by the manager personally, with the view of securing the very best.

F. J. Wallace, a character singer, George Van and Leonard Cluck, a Washington tenor will appear.

Moving pictures will be the attraction at the Academy tonight, presenting a program of novelties in motion pictures, the subjects being selected for their dramatic worth and laugh provoking qualities.

In addition to the pictures there will be offerings by high-class performers, among whom are Philip Oesthaus, in popular ballads; R. J. Wallace, in character songs; and Ned Hart, in selections of their own.

MISS CALLA SAVES HER SUMMER VILLA

Protects Property About to Be Foreclosed Under Mortgage.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 28.—The summer villa of Glacia Calla, the Paris beauty and actress, will not go under the auctioneer's hammer.

The Bayside residence of Miss Calla in Newington, was mortgaged to the Portsmouth Land Syndicate for $2,500 for her mother, Mrs. John H. Kelly, who needed the money to put Miss Calla back in the opera world, after the sensational killing of her brother, George Carlin, by her husband, Paul E. Roy, a year ago.

Miss Calla, when the rumors of foreclosure reached her, took steps to protect the property.

MISS AMY GRANT TO RENDER SALOME

Will Give Opera as a Reading, Assisted by Bruno Huhn, Pianist.

Miss Amy Grant, of New York, will give the opera of "Salome" as a reading next Wednesday afternoon, March 23, in the Columbia Theater. She will be assisted by Bruno Huhn, pianist, who will furnish the score. The Salome dance will be retained.

The English translation of the play will be used, with unimportant omissions. The music has been arranged with a view to giving emphasis to the scenes which will be read.

The play itself is pronounced a masterpiece of Oriental atmosphere and imagery. The opera form, however, requires more or less of a sacrifice of its poetic quality and imaginative beauty, which also suffer, with the English-speaking public at least, by the employment of a foreign tongue. An intelligent appreciation of the play can be gained, then, only by a knowledge of the text in the language with which one is most familiar.

Miss Farrar Coming.
Miss Geraldine Farrar, one of the prominent prima donnas of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will give a recital in the Columbia Theater, Wednesday afternoon, April 7, Albany Ritchie, violinist, will be the assisting artist.

Miss Farrar has been a member of the Metropolitan company several years, having attained her earlier successes in Berlin. She is an American girl, and is one of the youngest prima donnas now before the operatic world. Her great dramatic talent as well as her beautiful voice has won her distinction on both sides of the water, and in coming to Washington for a single recital next month, Miss Farrar will add another to a long list of notable musical events the Capital has been able to enjoy this season.

Last Performance.
The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York will give its last performance of the season in Baltimore tomorrow evening, March 29, in the Lyric Theater. The bill which has been selected for this performance is Puccini's "La Boheme," with a notable cast including Bonci, Farrar, Sparkes, Amato, Didur, Bozanne, Ananias, Paterna, Orlandi, Raimondi, Carneri, with Spretino as conductor.

In view of the fact that no opera performance will be given in Washington during the season, the musicians of the Capital City are more than ordinarily interested in the Baltimore season. The train schedule has been so arranged that the season's musicians will leave for the opening of the performance. The opera train leaves Baltimore at 11:30, reaching Washington in good time.

The Parliamentary Club, Mrs. G. B. Longan, president, will take up the tariff question April 6. The Longan Study Club, Mrs. H. J. Bone president, will describe the tariff's inquiries April 12. Meanwhile, however, officers will have the petitions drawn up and will disseminate the proper information among the leading members.

The Kansas City Women's Athletic Club will have a petition in its rooms on Monday. Mrs. Viola Dale McMurray, athletic instructor, will talk to the classes about the proposed injustice to the women outlined in the Payne bill. The subject will be discussed by the Council of Jewish Women also and petitions signed by its members. Other women's organizations enlisted in the movement against the Payne tariff measure are: Mothers' Union, Excelsior Club, Round Robin Club, Melrose Fortnightly Club, History Club, and Women's Auxiliary to Railway Mail Association.

Club women in Kansas City, Kans., also have begun opposition to the Payne

WOMEN START FIGHT AGAINST TARIFF BILL

Kansas City Clubs Will Wage War on Obnoxious Paragraphs—Are Squarely Against Duty on Articles Necessary in Family Life.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 28.—The women's clubs of Kansas City will have a few words to say about the Payne tariff bill before Congress gets through with it. If one-half of such organizations get after the obnoxious paragraphs as definitely as Kansas City women intend to do the chances are that material modifications will be made in the duty on stockings, gloves, and other articles necessary to family life.

Women may not, as a general rule, pay much attention to politics, policies, tariffs, and such things, but this time, say the Kansas City women, the trusts and their friends in Congress have gone just a little too far.

Petitions signed by several thousand club members of Kansas City will be sent to Missouri's representatives in Congress before April 15, certainly in sufficient time to be used in the debate in the Senate. The petitions will be squarely against the proposed increase in duties on stockings, gloves, and all cotton and wool wearing apparel, food sundries, and gloves.

Not only will the women protest against Missouri's representatives voting for these advances, but they will demand that certain of the duties be reduced from the present rates in the Dingley tariff.

Eleven directors of the Women's Athenaeum will talk about the tariff Monday afternoon in special meeting, when Miss Marie Goodman, president, will show how important it is to have all women use their influence against parts of the pending measure. Wednesday afternoon in the Central Presbyterian Church the Athenaeum is to hear E. A. Mills, of Washington, speak on forestry. The occasion will be used as an opportunity to tell the members about the Payne bill.

The Parliamentary Club, Mrs. G. B. Longan, president, will take up the tariff question April 6. The Longan Study Club, Mrs. H. J. Bone president, will describe the tariff's inquiries April 12. Meanwhile, however, officers will have the petitions drawn up and will disseminate the proper information among the leading members.

The Kansas City Women's Athletic Club will have a petition in its rooms on Monday. Club women in Kansas City, Kans., also have begun opposition to the Payne tariff. The Western Highland Study Club has agreed to write to Senator Curtis and Congressman Scott asking them to vote against the bill as it now reads.

Movement in Chicago.
CHICAGO, March 28.—Mrs. E. M. Henderson, who has urged the women of Illinois to "make it so uncomfortable for your Representative and Shelby M. Cullom that they will not allow the outrageous increase of tariff on women's wear" today began to see her campaign in successful operation. This morning she was notified by a number of women who were present at the meeting yesterday that they had written to their Congressmen and asked their friends to do the same. Representative James R. Mann is the one several have picked out to make miserable.

The League of Cook County Clubs, before which Mrs. Henderson spoke, passed resolutions of protest, as she suggested, addressed to Representative Payne. The increased duty on gloves, hosiery and underwear are the items especially attacked.

To follow up this movement of protest, the league will hold another meeting, and it has been arranged to bring the protest to a great anti-tariff meeting which will be held in Springfield April 15. Chicago delegates are to go to Springfield for that meeting in a special train.

BLIND WILL HEAR FINE PROGRAMS

Excellent programs have been prepared for the volunteer readings and concerts during the coming week in the reading room for the blind at the Library of Congress. They will take place at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

Crabtree, for years famed as a girlish comedienne, became the owner of the Hotel Brewster property on Boylston street by the payment of nearly $500,000 in cash to the estate of Charles H. Bond, thereby adding extensively to her already large real estate holdings in the city.
